

March 2024

Dear Project Manager!

This month we would like to draw your attention to 3 topics:

- The public beta of our new software: adoc Studio
- The PM Days in Munich
- The Merlin Project Onboarding in four languages

adoc Studio - We are Live!

We have been working on a new software for the last 2+ years. Now the time has finally come: adoc Studio is in public beta. This means you can now test our new software free of charge.

What is adoc Studio?

adoc Studio is an integrated writing environment for Mac and iPad. Imagine an IDE, but for writing technical documentation. Texts are written in the markup language AsciiDoc. Our software allows you to organize, write and share texts. Show or hide text passages with our conditions to export a specific document for multiple audiences. When you're done, export your project to different formats (e.g. HTML and PDF) using CSS styles.

Further information can be found on our website.

Subscribe to the adoc Studio newsletter and never miss any information about the future of technical documentation.

PM Days in Munich
